The movie Juno gains all that Oscar buzz; while Ellen Page, Jennifer Garner and Jason Bateman do a great job in their roles, so does Petunia Pickle Bottom's Tutu Roll Boxy Backpack. Even though the backpack doesn't have a speaking part, while Jen Garner and Jason Bateman argue in the front hallway of their home, the Tutu Roll Boxy Backpack sits quietly, taking in the conflict. Could a better backpack role be in Tutu's future?

Brianna Babywear

Southern California-based Brianna Babywear Inc., one of the first the first US baby apparel companies to manufacture using Pima cotton from Lima, Peru, celebrates their fifth year by introducing their Spring/Summer 2008 collection for newborn to two-year-olds. The collections include one-pieces, ruffled pants and shorts, hats both knitted and Pima, blankies, bibs, dresses with and without ruffles, booties, rompers and kimonos. Visit their new website www.briannababy.com.

Phillips Nizer LLP elects Jeremy Richardson to the partnership from Associate. New York City-based Mr. Richardson joined Phillips Nizer in 1999 and is a member of the Fashion Practice. He represents designers and manufacturers, including those in children's apparel, the furniture and accessories industry and provides counsel regarding copyright and trademark claims and general contract disputes. He's also a member of the American Apparel & Footwear Associations' Childrenswear Executive Council.

Orbit Baby unveils the revolutionary Toddler Car Seat as part of the Orbit Infant System. The car seat docks onto the SmartHub™ Base for your car, the Orbit Stroller and the Orbit Rocker. The SmartHub™ Base, sold separately, is uniquely designed to allow for safe and secure docking from almost any angle, which reduces back strain and emotional frustration. The car seat also rotates 360 degrees to lock in several different positions. Along with a detachable UV Sunshade, this system allows for convenience and flexibility for parents to take their children from car to airplane to strolling with just a few pieces of gear.
